GRACEY SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

Excellent Programs Rendered On Wednesday and Thursday
Evenings.

The Commencement Exercises of the Gracey Graded and High Schools were held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week.

The programs for both evenings were very interesting, and well carried out. On Wednesday evening a play based on the popular sketch, "Aunt Minerva and William Green Hill" was ably presented by pupils of the Gracey school. Miss Ruby Stewart as Miss Minerva, and Graeme Roberts as Billy, acted the leading roles in a delightful manner.

Another sketch entitled the "Old Maids' Single Blessedness Debating Society," was presented by the young ladies of Gracey in a charming manner.

The program for Thursday evening consisted of:

Invocation.....Rev. Frank Wilson
"Over There".....Chorus
Welcome Address.....Helen Hayes
Class Will.....John Gaines Hill
Keep the Home Fires Burning.....Chorus
Hand Grenade Presentation
"Smiles".....Abbie Meacham
"Smiles".....Chorus
Airship Prophecy.....Frank Cox
Class Address.....Supt. L. E. Foster
Awarding of Diplomas
.....Rev. Frank Wilson
"Where D We Go From Here?"
.....Chorus

The common school graduates are: Misses Myrtle Bivin, Inez Guthrie, Mildred Gaines, Elsie Guthrie, and Messrs. Gerald Stewart and Allen Hoy Gaines.

Those graduating from high school are: Misses Abbie Meacham, Helen Hayes and Messrs. Frank Cox and John Gaines Hill.

The "Cub" Does Penance

When the Cadiz record made its weekly but welcome visit to our exchange table yesterday morning, we found this in the funny column:

"Hopkinsville Paper Off Its Kazipp In Report of The Contest."

The Gracey ball team, after scouring Christian and adjoining counties for the best players to be obtained, managed to "put it over" our bunch of school lads in a hotly contested ball game at Gracey last Saturday afternoon.

With a woeful lack of accuracy, the reporter of the Hopkinsville Kentuckian hands to the reading public this "highflying" conglomeration of many things that never happened except in the fertile brain of the aforesaid "cub."

Followed the Kentuckian's account of the game.

It is indeed true that the "cub" who wrote up the game, had not witnessed the contest, but had only evidence offered by eye-witnesses to go by, but alas, the record forgot to put him right as to the real facts.

This "cub" is a tender-hearted youth and regrets any error made. With bitter tears of remorse coursing down his cheeks, he remarked that any anyone on the feather-weight end of a 19 to 9 score had a right to feel hurt at the slightest reference to that particular game, and he did not blame anyone for objecting to the reference.

"That was not the worst of it," he gabbled, "I have not only referred to it, but by so doing, revealed the fact that a small town outplayed a town six or eight times its size and why did I add the straw that broke the camel's back by saying, it was the second time the thing was done. Why, oh why did I mention such a disgraceful truth?"

"But that is not the worst," he wailed, "I had just realized that I had a 'kazipp,' and I fell off of it and now it has run away. Please won't somebody find my wandering 'kazipp' and let me have it back again, because I am so lonesome all alone!"

We would suggest that the Cadiz Game should have been described so as to speak more reverently of the Cadiz team.

He might have said the Gracey team repeatedly slammed the ball over their hoary headed and otherwise venerable opponents' heads. They flew around the bases, flitting lightly past the reputable as well as moon struck opposition.

He could have added, the pitcher for Gracey twirled in such a manner that the opposition gracefully swung into empty space, the very air (hit air alone) being shattered with the famous but otherwise futile blows.

He should have referred to their grandiloquent heroic as well as hopeless efforts to tie the score..

ART PUBLISHER IS

KILLED BY WOMAN

Chicago, May 5.—P. F. Volland, forty-six, art publisher, was shot and killed today by a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Vera Trepagnier, fifty-five, widow of a New Orleans planter.

Police said Mrs. Trepagnier was prompted to shoot Volland because he failed to pay her $5,000 and royalties promised her when she turned over a miniature of George Washington to him.

Death of E. R. Avant.

Ed R. Avant, aged 69, died at the home of his son-in-law, J. H. Belew, on Walnut St., Thursday afternoon, of cerebral hemorrhage. The body was shipped yesterday to his former home at Water Valley, Miss. He leaves a wife.

Henry T. Shine was appointed Police Judge of Glasgow by Gov. Stanley. Of course he is a bright man.

Mrs. Rives Better.

Mrs. Frank Rives has passed the crisis in her disease and yesterday was reported to be improving.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Will Select Delegates To State Convention at Courthouse This Afternoon.

Pursuant to call, the Republicans will meet in county convention today in each county of the state to elect delegates to a state convention at Lexington next Wednesday. Christian county is entitled to 46 delegates. The convention will be called to order at one o'clock p. m.

With the nomination of Ed Morrow for governor already settled, in advance, it is the plan to have all rival candidates submit their claims to the state convention and a state ticket will be made up to be put on the ballot by committee endorsement and thus obviate the necessity of a state primary. If the Democrats would adopt the same policy, many thousands of dollars would be saved to the state. The primary election law ought to be repealed. It is a big expense to the state and does not result in any better candidates being selected by either party.

Purely Personal

Charlie Slaughter has returned from Chicago.

Miss Agnes Flack has returned from a visit to Mrs. Baylor Hickman, of Louisville.

Mrs. J. H. Brown left yesterday for a visit to Dawson.

Miss Mary Cloud, of Pembroke, is visiting Mrs. Malcolm Frankel.

Howe W. Wallace, Jr., has accepted a place in the shoe department at Wall & McGowan's and will not return to Houston, Texas.

John T. Hill has accepted a position with the J. H. Anderson Co.

TWO STORES BROKEN INTO

And Merchandise And Drugs Stolen
At Crofton.

Brasher & Croft's drug store and Frank Gordon's dry goods store were both broken into at Crofton a few nights ago. Jin Rogers' blacksmith shop was first opened and an auger taken with which a hole was bored in the back door of the drug store and with a wire the bar was lifted and the door opened. About 250 morphine tablets were taken and some jewelry.

The dry goods store was entered by breaking a glass in the front door. About $200 worth of merchandise was taken. Marshall Travis McCord with a bloodhound took the trail a mile towards Madisonville, where it is supposed the thieves got into a vehicle.

R. R. Bell Recovering.

Dr. Austin Bell continues to improve slowly, following an attack of spinal meningitis. He is still at the Stuart Hospital.

Not Improving.

Dr. Chas. F. Harrison, whose back was broken in an automobile accident Monday night, is still alive at the Stuart Hospital, but is not improving.

CAPS AND BOOTS

Ray Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Boyd, has wired his parents that he has arrived in this country from France, where he served for several months with the American forces. He was two months a prisoner in Germany and was freed when the armistice was signed. So far as it known he was the only Christian county soldier who fell into the enemy's hands.

Corporal Addison William Jones, former make-up on the Kentuckian, has returned from service in France, 20 pounds heavier than when he left in the spring of 1917. Jones was wounded in action and later gassed, but has apparently fully recovered his health. He reached home Thursday night.

Brig. Gen. Logan Feland has sailed from France and is due to arrive in a few days. He will probably visit his mother here.

Capt. Alvin H. Clark has started home from France, having had service in the army of occupation. Mrs. Clark received a cable this week saying he had left Brest.

In Police Court.

T. W. Pearey was found guilty and fined a hundred dollars in Police Court Tuesday, on the charge of selling liquor without a license.

Ira D. Smith sat as special judge in the case in the absence of Judge Wood. The prosecution was represented by City Prosecutor, W. O. Soyars. O. H. Anderson was the attorney for the defense.

Mrs. Steele To Speak at Methodist Church.

Mrs. Hume R. Steele, the Educational Secretary of the Woman's Missionary Council of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, will speak at the Methodist church here Sunday night, at the regular evening service hour.

Mrs. Steele comes here from Nashville.

Surrender to Police.

Curry Campbell, colored, aged 14, and Dave Cole, gave themselves up to the police yesterday morning and admitted having broken in W. E. Penn's grocery on the corner of 2nd and R. R. streets. Penn's grocery was burglarized Wednesday night and a quantity of groceries and candies stolen. The boys were suspected and when they found that an arrest was pending, immediately went to police headquarters and admitted the deed. They were lodged in the county jail.

Dr. Doolan's Bulletin Board.

A big bulletin board has been erected in front of the First Baptist church, of the most up-to-date type, upon which the pastor, Dr. Leonard W. Doolan, will announce the subject of his discourses in advance. The subject for Sunday is "All Weathers Are Pleasant When the Heart Is At Rest." The morning sermon will be appropriate to "Mother's Day."

Jones-Lindley.

Mr. William Raymond Jones, of Dugger, Ind., and Miss Lois Naomi Lindley were married Tuesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Lindley.

The house was beautifully decorated for the happy occasion, with flowers and plants. A large wedding bell of white flowers was suspended from the ceiling, under which the ceremony was performed by Rev. E. P. Watson. The attendants were Miss Irene Dougherty and Mr. Ernest Wade and the wedding march was played by Miss Narcissus McKee.

After a visit of several days here, they will go to their home in Indiana. The bride is a pretty and popular young lady, who has been a reigning belle in the Easter part of the county.

Rev. A. R. Kasey will preach at Cadiz tomorrow.

Don't Chuck that Brick

By BILLY SUNDAY
(Famous Evangelist)

(Copyright, 1917, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Of all the Writing Ginks that ever Pulled Bright Lines, the most Incandescent, probably, was Big Bill Shakespeare. You can take Pretty Nearly Anything that William ever Tore Off on his Trusty old Single Keyboard, then Size Up a few words from a Sentence, and you'll have to admit that Bill SAID IT.

I was Crashing Through some of the Highrow Stuff that our Old Pal dashed off, the Other Day, and in that Sketch called "As You Like It," which used to Play the Big Time before the Shuberts and K. & E. were Ever Heard Of, I ran across an expression of Bill's which said there were "Sermons in Stones."

So there Are. There's one Big Sermon in Every Stone. Here it is. "Don't Throw the Stone!"

Do you Make Me?

I mean, DON'T KNOCK.

In my opinion, any Guy that tosses a pebble at another fellow's Reputation, ought to have the Woolworth Building dropped on Top of his Own Bean.

It's an Awful Game, this Knocking. What you Start in a Whisper against the Other Bird, may wind up as a Big Holler through a Megaphone, that will put him Out of the Battle for Keeps. And, you know, you may be All Wrong. And, once you've Started the Ball Rolling, it's going to Travel Some. You may say:

"I don't like the Cut of that Guy's Jib."

The Geeser you Say it To passes it Along. He says:

"I hear Jimmy Whooziss is running Out of Line."

The next Customer says:

"What do you Know about Old Jim? I get it he's Ducking the Bulls!"

And by the time This Stuff gets Around the Block, they'll have Jim Whooziss reported up at Sing Sing, Facing the Chair. And the Guy that's responsible is YOU. How do you Feel about it?

Why not put the old Reverse English on your Chat-Spiller, if you must Say Something? It will Work Out with just as much Speed and Power, but the Other Way. If you Pass it Out that Jim's All Right, the First Listener will Shoot it Along that Jim's a Bear-Cat, and would Give a Man his Shirt. Number Three will Slip the Dope Along that James is a Prince—and the first thing you know, they'll be Putting him Up for the Primary Elections. And won't you Feel a Lot Better?

The Hammer is a fine instrument—in the Hands of a Blacksmith. But the Ordinary Citizen ought not to Wield It, especially against the Fellow who is Out of the same Cast.

The Horn is a Lot Better. My only objection to the Horn is that Most People confine its use to New Year's Eve, and don't Blow Every Day in honor of the Chap Next Door.
